Spring is here and is buried under 7 inches of snow! April 4, 1999

First I had the spring fever really bad and was wanting to get my garden started, then along came all this snow and knocked my spring fever right in the head. Then I was used to going to bed at 8:30 and getting up at 5:30 and along came daylight savings time and that did another number on my internal clock. Life should be more gentle to us older people as we do not adjust well at all.

At our next meeting we will be discussing changes in the newsletter, so if you have any opinion you really should be there to make it known. As you can see, I am on #55 and this is turning out to be more than even I anticipated. When I set down to write the newsletter I think that I am writing to my friends and I try to catch you up on all the news, but I have not heard from some of my "friends" for several years! This newsletter is a limited edition with only 50 copies being printed each month, so voice an opinion!

Loulou's Little Gossip Corner

Kudos' to our very own Nancy Martin for being named Clerical Volunteer of the year by Sangre de Cristo Hospice. Keep up the good work, Nancy.

Sam and Chris are house hunting in Denver. They are looking at one with a bottom floor that will hold a crabby mother-in-law, sooooo------.

Kay and Frank are hopefully wending their weary way homeward. We have certainly missed their smiling faces over the dreary winter we just had. Sure be glad to have them in our midst!

Rusty and Pepper showed very good judgment in not pledging loyalty to Qual-Med given the current state of affairs!

Paul--you should consider this letter as your wake up call! See you Sunday!

Well, I got to go to work, so this is it for this time. See you all on Sunday. Lou
